Homesick For Good Old Earth Decorating Red Square for Party

MOSCOW (AP)-Maj. Gherman Titov said today his space ship survived 17 orbits of the earth as well as he did and everything is "fine and in working orderready for another flight

The Soviet Union's second cosmonaut was interviewed by correspondents of Pravda, the Communist party paper, at the undis-closed landing area as Moscow prepared a hero's welcome for newsmen described Titov as in excellent health and having an "almost bronze-colored face, as if tanned by outer space.'

Although Titov said he encountered no trouble aboard the space ship for more than 24 hours-"conditions of weightlessness are good for working"-he did confess to one difficulty: He was homesick for solid ground.

"I knew that there was something in the nature of homesickness called nostalgia, but I found that there is also a homesickness for the earth. I don't know what it should be called but it does, Titov said.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY THE TIP OFF

As early as the Potsdam Conference (July 17, 1945) Stalin made it clear that Soviet Russia would oppose the participation of China in European and world affairs, despite the fact that China had been at war with Japan since September 1931. Had China not kept Japan occupied, it is likely that the Japanese, using Manchuria as a base, would have conquered Mongolia and parts of Siberia as far east as Lake Baikal.

As a matter of fact, Japan had been active in that region since 1917 and it was only American intervention that saved both Russian and Chinese territory. Nevertheless, Soviet Russia never went into the Far Eastern War until it was over and then came in for the spoils. So on July 17, 1945, when Stalin, Churchill and

Truman were meeting at Potsdam to discuss matters, the following colloquy occurred:

String Artists Are To Be Featured Wednesday Night

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - Wednesday night at the Pilgrimage Theater: the string summit meet-

This major musical event brings together the soaring talents of violinist Jascha Heifetz and cellist Gregor Piatigorsky They will be joined in three concerts by viola player William Primrose, pianist Leonard Pennario and such other string artists as Virginia Majewski, Arnold Belnick, Joseph Stepansky, Gabor Rejto and Israel Baker.

The reason for the concerts: they like to make music.

I drove to Cahuenga Pass at the northern tip of Hollywood to observe the preparations. Workmen were busy erecting baffles to keep out the noise of the Hollywood Freeway and a panel overhanging the stage to waft the music to the audience.

Piatigorsky was first to arrive. A husky bear of a man in light slacks and blue coat, he ex plained why he and Heifetz had chosen the 1,300-seat theater They could easily fill the 20,000-capacity Hollywood Bowl across the street

"Ah, but the sound would not be the same," the cellist said. 'Chamber music is meant to be played in a small place." Precisely at the rehearsal hour of 7:30, Heifetz appeared. Handsome with short, curly hair, he wore a dark blue suit and carried his violin case. He gazed at the construction over the stage and commented, "Looks like a Heifetz also discussed the hazards of outdoor playing. They include weather-"it must not be too humid"-and aircraft.

"I don't know whether they can Saturday are the days of the resident of Clintondale, son of hear the music up there or not," the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Wells he said wryly. "But somehow he said wryly. ## Satchel Paige Duc for Stadium Appearance on August 22

Famous Hurler Will Pitch for Kansas Monarchs

The immortal Leroy (Satchel) Paige, a Negro baseball pitcher who became a legend in his own time, returns to Kingston on Tuesday, Aug. 22.

Paige leads the crack Kansas City Monarchs, Negro World champions against the Kingston Braves of the NY-NJ League in a night game at Dietz Stadium.

The most famous of all Negro players, Paige appeared in Kingston with the Monarchs in a pre-war game against the Kingston Recreations witnessed by more than 5,000 persons.

He was not at his sharpest best in turning back the challenge of Dr. Hugo Isabella of Pine Haven, 3 and 2, in the ENYGA finals, but in the clutch he had it. Blessed with a beautiful match play pleted by the Bureau of Sport temperament, Randall stayed firm and Dr. Isabella cracked when Fisheries and Wildlife in central it looked like they might go on forever halving holes.

Dr. Isabella, a three-time semi finalist in the tournament, cracked first. He stubbed two relatively routine chip shots, a sure sign of mounting pressure, and Randall moved in for the Randall was having trouble midway in the match. He pulled a fairway iron on the treacherous No. 7 and a tee shot on the 8th. Again on the 9th he rammed home an 8-foot saver after Dr. Isabella was short on a chip shot.

Scotty Robertson, the Wiltwyck pro, who was escorting the press around Wiltwyck's 6,800-yard plus layout, spotted a flaw in Randall's game. He was lifting his heels too fast and too much. The word was passed along and Leon's game improved. In the end his steadiness unnerved the upstate dentist who is a rugged match player.

• The Nineteenth Hole:

Some of Wiltwyck's best bombers - the Marks brothers (Ron and Bill), John Burych, Bill Kaufman and Harvey Bostic - missed the championships for various reasons - work schedules, etc. Then again there was a lot of golf ahead of the ENYGA and the Stamford Invitational coming up this weekend. These could have been factors, too. The field of 73 players was the lowest in many years. This was a drop of $4,857. Massachusetts and Vermont swingers passed it up. . . That 16th hole at Wiltwyck is becoming a legend. Three Invitational finals came to a close there and now the ENYGA. It remains a snare and an illusion. It is rather infrequent that both contenders are on the green. It generally resolves into a chipping duel. . . Lionel Hebert, former PGA champion, tells how touring pros save strokes in wet weather, Some of his often overlooked tips are: 1) Having the towl on the rib of the umbrella after it is open—not in the bag; 2) Be day from a California woman who shouldn't play that way against certain spikes are free from debris before each shot; 3) Dry club watched their 28-14 victory over those college boys.
